

Attaboy!

By Coyle Shea

LINES TO SOME ROACHES.
(The rare species found around this office grows to exceptional size and develops unbelievable courage, nerve and strength.)

If I were only on a jag And saw you limply loping, I'd swear you were a rabbit on A hill that's gently sloping.
Or maybe I would say again You were a brown-eyed rat—An elephant puppy or Some other thing like that.

Of mornings as I hustle in I find you at salute—But how you deftly scatter, when I swing a wicked boot!
Yet still you cock-eyed, overgrown, And egotistic jay—
I live in fear that any night You'll drag my desk away.

No dog alive will stand around And stare you in the eye—The cat is shaking shimmies when You boldly scamper by.
And should they ever try to stage A cock-roach tournament, Believe me, I will back you with My final copper cent.

Jack Dillon defends Jack Dempsey, by birds of a feather still flock together.

FANS BLAME KEARNS.

Meanwhile Jack Kearns might step up and explain just what part he played in the draft dodging drama. It is believed by many that Kearns is the entry responsible for the existing state of affairs. Fans contend that Dempsey might have enlisted but for the pressures exerted by this crafty individual.
Kearns has never been of great credit to the game. He has been termed a schemer of innumerable tricks, and it may be that he was adverse to parting with so promising a meal ticket.
This despite the fact that his country was at war.
If Dempsey remained in action he could procure a wider variety of performance for personal use. Therefore the desire to evade the draft.
And then again Kearns may not be at fault at all. Yet many bugs are giving him the razz in place of Dempsey.
This much will always remain beyond argument: Neither Kearns nor Dempsey entered khaki. This seems to be sufficient for the average soldier.

Speaking of fighters recalls what Billy Black once stated: "I have dealt with many people in my time, but never have I seen so ungrateful a set as a whole as is found in the fighting game."
"I trust them as far as I can see them, but seldom any further. And when I render them a favor I know that it is being wasted."
"I have never been paid back a penny of the hundreds of dollars I have loaned to boxers. Not one penny, mind you. I have listened to their pleas and coughed up accordingly, but always with the full knowledge that I was throwing so much away. Never have I loaned money with the belief that even part of it would be returned."
"I have picked up stranded boxers, clothed them, fed them, financed them, and billed them, and as soon as their chances arrived they invariably stung me to the core. They thought no more of running out on me at the last moment than they did of eating at the appointed time. And they'll double-cross you without batting an eye."
"Believe me when I say that I'm

Dick Conway Sold
By Chicks To The
Birminghamers

DICK CONWAY.
Dick Conway, former Memphis infielder and utility man, has been sold by the local Southern league club to the Birmingham Barons for a cash consideration. Dick was let out last season by the Chicks and finished the season playing second base for Mobile. At the end of the season he was re-signed to Memphis. A deal was cooked up between President Thomas R. Watkins, of the Chicks, and Manager Gladys Mole-worth, of the Birmingham club, which resulted in Dick being transferred to the Barons.

We Almost Believe the Story of Old Mother Goose Who Lived in a Shoe!

We have shoe patrons tell us every day—"I've worn these shoes all season and have simply lived in them!" And we know for a fact that Johnston & Murphy Footwear is built with so much care and skill that it makes living in them really very wonderful.

Whenever you see a shoe concern keep its handlers all over the country waiting for months until they are sure that just the right kind of leather and hand craftsmanship will be used—you are bound to realize why they are maintaining their reputation as "America's Best!"

After a long wait—J. and M. Evening Dress Footwear and Broguish and Winged Tip Cordovan and Pebbled Calf Shoes have arrived—all legitimately priced!

Yours for perfection of fit,

O'DOWD PEEVED.

Mike O'Dowd, the middleweight champion, has signed a set of articles for a bout with Georges Carpentier and has sent the same over to France.
O'Dowd challenged the Frenchman recently in a cablegram, which was read from the ring just before the Beckett-Carpentier fight. So far he has received no reply and O'Dowd wants to know why he has been ignored.

Mike fought Dick Smith in London and stopped him in a few rounds. Smith is the battler with whom Carpentier tried himself out after his long absence from the ring, and as the Frenchman took longer to stop the Englishman than O'Dowd did the latter thinks it proved that he would be a capital opponent for Georges.

FIRE SMOKE WATER

STUPENDOUS; way and beyond our most sanguine expectations; the greatest crowds and the most tremendous selling ever known—these are the outstanding features of this, the most remarkable bargain event in the history of Memphis merchandising.

But its duration is now limited. Work of reconstruction and remodeling of our store at 24 South Main Street is progressing so rapidly that we may confidently expect to be back within two or three weeks and we are therefore compelled to govern accordingly.

The result is a general speeding up of our selling efforts—a fresh startling sacrifice of prices in all the departments in order to carry out the one aim and purpose of this great sale—Selling out every dollar's worth of merchandise salvaged from our recent fire.

It means Bargains such as you have never witnessed—buying opportunities such as you never expected, and if saving money means anything to you in these days of high prices and rising costs, you will want to come to the great sale tomorrow.
